

The New York Times

"All the News
That's Fit to Print"

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 2005

Copyright © 2005 The New York Times

VOL. CLIV ... No. 53,124

23

25

26

29

24

27

28

30

31

Feb. 7: Elle Decor held its annual Dining by Design benefit for the Design Industries Foundation Fighting AIDS. Interior designers and architects created 52 tables for the 300 guests in the Hammerstein Ballroom. The evening raised $400,000.

31. The Eiffel Tower table by Suzanne Kasler Interiors.

32. Nancy Epstein's table for Artistic Tile, with corset lampshades made of tile fragments.

33. EVA ZEISEL, left, whose designs were used by GRETCHEN ZUK in a setting for Crate & Barrel, which makes them.

34. MARGARET RUSSELL, the editor in chief of Elle Decor, and LEE MINDEL.

32

33

34

grouping watches es to herald the benefit opening of the Salvador Dalí show, the first major retrospective of the artist's work in the United States in more than 60 years, and to celebrate the centennial of his birth. The show, which was organized by the museum and the Palazzo Grassi in Venice, where it opened, includes more than 200 works and runs through May 15. The Philadelphians clearly enjoyed adding surrealist touches to their dress. More than 800 guests attended, raising $250,000.

18. LAWRENCE H. BERGER and BETTY MARMON.

19. From left, ANNE D'HARNON-COURT, MONTSE AGUER, H. F. LEINFEST and RAMON BOIXADÓS I MALÉ, president of the Gala-Salvador Dalí Foundation.

20. The grand stairway with its Dalíesque clocks.

21. MICHAEL TAYLOR, curator of modern art at the museum.

22. RACHEL CLARK.

23. JIM BATTISTI as Dalí.

24. PEGGY TILGHMAN, left, and LIDDY LINDSAY.

25. DIONNE FIELDS, left, and PATRICIA A. GROOMS.

26. RACHEL UDELL.

27. DENNIS and GISELA ALTER.

28. G. PEABODY GARDNER JR. and MARY McFADDEN.

29. LAWRENCE H. BERGER in a bowtie echoing the lips settee

30. SHARON-MICHI KUSUNOKI.